Application of walker boot

Patient Information Leaflet

The Dudley Group
NHS Foundation Trust

Introduction

This leaflet is for people who are wearing a walker boot to help them with their injury. It gives instructions on how to take the boot off and put it back on again, and what to do when wearing it.

How do I take the boot off?

1. Undo the straps leaving them attached (do not remove the straps from the boot).
2. Open the Velcro at the front and slide your foot out.
3. Do not remove the inner lining from the boot.
4. Do not adjust the rigid side support bars.

How do I put the boot back on?

1. To re-apply the boot, fasten inner liner with the Velcro closure before securing the straps.
2. Secure the straps in the numbered order shown in figure 1.
3. Straps should be comfortably tight but not so tight as to impair your circulation.

What do I need to do when wearing the boot?

- You can wear a sock in the boot to keep the inner clean and your toes warm.
- Check the condition of your skin regularly.
- If the boot is not to be removed, you can cover it with a pillow case to sleep in to keep your bedding clean. The doctor or nurse will let you know your weight-bearing status and whether the boot can be removed at night.
